Progressive Planet Solutions boosts board with new appointment

Progressive Planet Solutions Inc (CVE:PLAN) announced Tuesday that Reni Proznick has joined PLAN's advisory board.

Proznick is a professional electrical engineer, employed by an international engineering firm in a project management role. He has experience in managing both brownfield and greenfield projects throughout British Columbia, Canada.

"We are excited to add Reni to our team. I originally asked Reni to optimize a collider mill we purchased to produce micronized zeolite from our Z-1 Zeolite Quarry for use in developing supplementary, cementitious materials (SCM's), said Steve Harpur, CEO of Progressive Planet. "I was so impressed with his design skills that I asked him to take on a greater role. Having access to these technical skills is invaluable."

Proznick has been issued 300,000 stock option shares as compensation.

PLAN has now commissioned its concrete lab at the Advanced Materials Centre in Vernon, BC. PLAN has begun testing of various concrete blends that include micronized zeolite and has hired a chemist to work at its concrete lab.

Shares of Progressive Planet Inc were at C$0.05 on Tuesday.
