Enertopia expects lithium test results in early August; receives short-term loan

Enertopia Corporation (CSE:TOP) (OTCMKTS:ENRT) announced Friday that President Robert McAllister is extending the company a short-term loan of C$20,000 ahead of expected lithium solution test results.

The Kelowna, British Columbia-based company said that it expects the next set of test results to be received in early August from a third-party laboratory.

The company is running tests on grain sizing and lithium grades per grain sizing, pre-strip and reagent testing on impurity levels from drilled horizons at the project.

The loan provides for a 10% annual interest and is repayable in 90 days, according to a statement from Enertopia.

The lithium company's flagship asset is the Clayton Valley brine project in Nevada, located near Albermarle's Silver Peak lithium mine.
